HAPPINESS IS 4-H

By Frank H. Sweet
Extension Agent

Senior 4-H members will need to be prepared to present their demonstrations and illustrated talks on Friday, March 23, from 3:30 to 8:00 p.m. or on Saturday morning, March 24, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

We would like to know your topics before you come to present your demonstration or illustrated talk.

* * *

The Appomattox County 4-H Demonstration and Illustrated Talk program for Junior members will be Saturday, April 28, at Appomattox Elementary School. Junior 4-H'ers will be learning about giving demonstrations and illustrated talks during the next several weeks.

Many thanks to those 4-H'ers who assisted with the AES PTA Talent Show last week. Included among these were: Mike Roach, Anthony Browder, Phil Bollinger, Timmy Lawson, Carroll Patrick, Kinckle Robinson, Leslie Ranson, Darlene Ferguson, Suzette Ranson, Jennifer Burke, June Jenkins, Donna Dickerson, Cheryl Austin, Regina Watkins, Sandy Walton, Tammy Martin, JoAnn Jamerson, Monica Stratton, Dana Lee and Ann Paige Nolen. Also, a special thanks to Mrs. Roberta Womack for her assistance with the program.

* * *

Dr. Bill Burger presented a real fine program on care of small pets for the Lucky Clover 4-H Club last week. Dr. Burger talked about the basic care of pets and then explained and showed how he used x-rays in his veterinary clinic.

* * *

Senior 4-H'ers are encouraged to fill out applications to participate in this summer's 4-H Interstate Exchange trip to Nebraska. Trip will take place during the last two weeks of July. Application forms are available from the Extension office.

* * *

Remember that Wildlife Feed Patch forms are due in our office by April 1. This is most important as we have to arrange for the seed through the Virginia Game Commission.

* * *

4-H families interested in possibly hosting an International 4-H visitor in their home may apply to do so by filling out a 4-H IFYE (International Four-H Youth Exchange) Host Family application. We have several of these in our office if your family may be interested. Approximately 40 families in Virginia hosted visitors last summer

Short Course To Teach Beef Breeders Better Production

BLACKSBURG - A two-day short course designed to teach beef breeders how to make better use of production records and design breeding programs will be held at Virginia Tech's Donaldson Brown Center for Continuing Education Tuesday and Wednesday, March 20-21.

Topics to be discussed include selecting, developing and preparing cattle for show and sale, systems and methods of identification for record keeping, vaccine use and other management practices, management at calving, developing a breeding herd, evaluating and combining feeds for specific accomplishments and marketing through private and consignment sales.

Pre-registration is required. The $20 registration fee includes a copy of the proceedings and two meals, James A. Smith noted.

A copy of the program and registration forms can be obtained from the local Extension office at P.O. Box 488, Appomattox, Va. 24522 or call 352-8244.

ACHS 4-H CLUB

On Wednesday, March 7, 1979 the Appomattox County High School 4-H Club took a trip to Wilbun's Supermarket. Mr. Clarence Franklin showed us the different parts of beef. He also showed us how the meat was cut. Mr. Franklin said that some of the cheaper cuts of beef had a better taste than some of the more expensive ones. We learned more about the different kinds of steaks and other meats.

We would like to thank Mr. Franklin for taking the time to show us the beef. We really enjoyed learning about it.

Remembering George

Robert E. Simms of 12017 Vint Hill Road, Nokesville (formerly of Appomattox) celebrated George Washington's birthday by carving this wooden hatchet. The hatchet itself refers to the famous incident of Washington chopping down the cherry tree (which is carved in the head of the hachet.)

That was an impressive list, now wasn't it? There is one thing that bothers me a bit though. If, for any reason, someone whose name appeared on that list has been trying to keep his or her age a secret, then I blew the whole thing, didn't I? I'm sorry about that.

Would you like to know what it was like to have attended Buck Creek School.....not in 1926 but in 18917 Come with me for a visit next week, won't you?

My life is my message.

RECEIVES MERITORIOUS SERVICE MEDAL

SEMBACH, Germany - Senior Master Sergeant Macon E. Caviness, son of Mrs. Mattie L. Caviness of 119 Londonberry Road, Forrest, Va., has received the Meritorious Service Medal at Sembach AB, Germany.

Sergeant Caviness was cited for outstanding duty performance as a structural technician with the 437th Civil Engineering Squadron at Charleston AFB, S.C.

The Sergeant now serves at Sembach as a structural superintendent with the 501st Civil Engineering Squadron, a part of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe.

Sergeant Caviness attended E. C. Glass High School, Lynchburg, Va., and the University of Southern Illinois extension at Charleston.

The sergeant's wife, Carolyn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wooldridge of Rt. 2, Concord, Va.

Child Psychologist To Speak To Primary PTA

Dr. Ann Looney will be the guest speaker at the March 15th meeting of the Appomattox Primary School PTA meeting.

Dr. Looney, a child psychologist, received her doctorate degree from Florida State University and has worked in this area since 1975. She will be speaking to the group on problems related to the K - 2 child.

All patrons are urged to hear Dr. Looney. The meeting will be held Thursday, March 15th at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

See you there!

Weight Restrictions Set For Some Va. Secondary Roads

Temporary weight restrictions are being set for a number of Virginia's secondary roads in an attempt to minimize winter damage, the State Department of Highways and Transportation said today.

The restrictions, which may also be extended to some minor primary routes, won't interfere with normal passenger car travel, but will place the affected roads off limits for most trucks and other heavy vehicles.

Signs informing drivers of the temporary limits will be erected at each end of the sections of road involved, the department said.

Generally, the reduced limits will allow maximum axle weights up to five tons.

The restrictions may be in effect for up to 90 days. At the end of that period, they will be removed or, if circumstances warrant, extended. In most instances, officials said, the 90-day period should be sufficient for the roads to stabilize from the spring thaws.

The department said it would not impose the restrictions for any roads unless engineering studies concluded that such measures were essential in each case to prevent further costly damage from heavy vehicles.

The extensive freezing and thawing in February and March already have caused substantial damage, although highway officials do not expect the total to reach last year's record $50 million in winter damage.

Roads for which the restrictions have been ordered thus far are located mainly in western and central Virginia counties, but it is likely the temporary limits will be extended to some roads in virtually every area of the state.

Meanwhile, the Highway and Transportation Departm e n t has begun making temporary repairs, and will tackle permanent repairs immediately after the threat of further freezing and thawing has passed.

The department plans to employ contracting firms to assist its own personnel in order to provide a larger work force and expedite the permanent restoration.
